IIDA Sandi Award Winning Project by H3Design- This urgent care facility intent is to provide their patients with highest quality, and cost-effective outpatient services in a unique setting. The design point of view, is to promote patient comfort and efficiency to the staff who are our mission and focus. With the inspiration of the beach in mind, H3Design has incorporated the design elements that are associated with the feeling of relaxation and comfort such as the use of water-like elements, subtle colors, warm lighting and fusion of textures. All in all, this sophisticated design not only offers inviting ambience with modern principals that are beneficial to both patients and medical staff, while transforming the traditional health care environment into a unique yet harmonious piece. This unique design setting also redefines health care into a new era.

PRESIDENT'S THOUGHTS ON SUSTAINABILITY

At H3Design, design is our business, people are our passion and sustainability is our obligation.

Our designs not only enhance quality of life but they also succeed because we address our client's needs while being ever mindful of the impacts our decisions make upon the environment. We are acutely aware that every design decision has an impact. We help you make these impacts positive ones.

Every design is part of a larger global environmental tapestry. That is why sustainability is an integral part of everything design decision we make. From the commencement of schematic design, our team considers the impact our designs have on the occupants, our communities, our clients budget and the environment to arrive at an optimum balance. The result of this process goes far beyond lower energy bills to improving health and air quality, increasing productivity and using resources more efficiently. No matter what your design goals are, we are here to help you find the ideal balance between budget and environmental responsibility.

 Diana Castro, ASID, IIDA, LEED A.P
